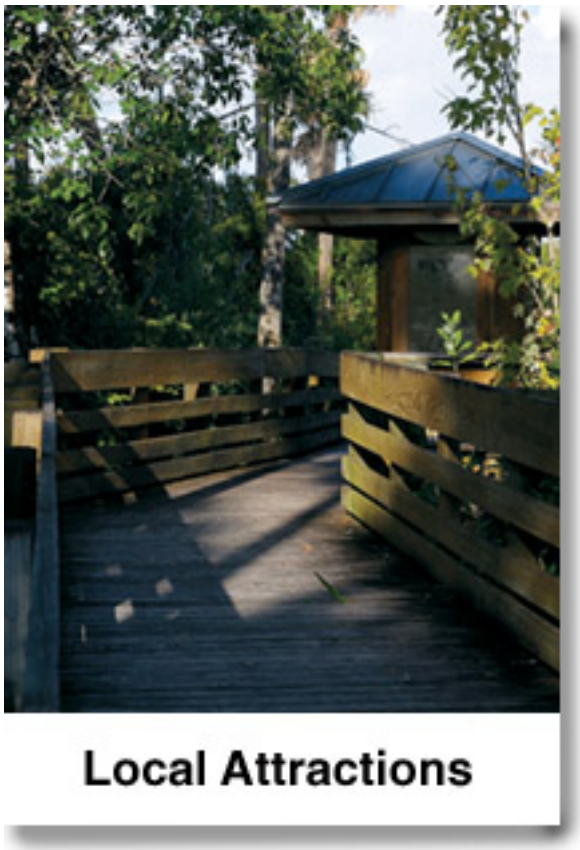
Hobe Sound is located adjacent to Jupiter Island in southern Martin County. Hobe Sound was named after the Jove/Jobe Indians of the area. Hobe Sound's roots date back to the late 1600s when the Reformation, a British merchant ship, sank off the Jupiter Inlet, thereby introducing Captain Jonathan Dickinson and crew to the local Indian tribes. The Jove (Ho Bay) and Tekestas Tribes' influence can be seen in the naming of both Hobe Sound and Tequesta to the south.

Parts of Hobe Sound were included in the Gomez Grant given to Don Eusebio in 1815 by Spain, which he later sold for $1 an acre to Josephine Delespine. This sale included Jupiter Island.

During the land boom of the 1920s, Hobe Sound was renamed Picture City with plans for the area to become a new Hollywood. However, in 1928, after a devastating hurricane, the name was restored to Hobe Sound. Along with street names, some lampposts still remain today.



Local Attractions

Known statewide for preservation of our unspoiled natural geography, Hobe Sound has become the calm between the hustle and bustle of Stuart (north) and Palm Beach County (south). Natural beauty expresses itself in places like Peck Lake Park's wooden walkways. Blowing Rocks has stunning and picturesque sprays of water. Jonathan Dickinson State Park with its habitat, and other natural areas like the Hobe Sound Wildlife refuge at the north end of Jupiter Island. Locals and visitors alike can learn about the native flora and fauna when visiting The Hobe Sound Nature Center. Who could forget the sunrise? Easily viewed from Hobe Sound Beach, it is a perfect way to start your day. Whatever you decide to do, remember to relax and enjoy your time here in Hobe Sound.

Exciting is a perfect way to describe events in Hobe Sound. The Chamber holds four events that bring our locals and visitors out for fun and excitement. Dixie Highway is an outdoor art gallery in Febraary for our Festival of the Arts. May brings our annual Golf Tournament. Sanctioned by the Florida BBQ Association and a Jack Daniels qualifier, our BBQ Festival with great food, music and professional BBQ competition is held in July. Who could forget Santa? The Hobe Sound Christmas Parade sleighs into our downtown each December. What a year of events!

Community defines who and what we are. From the generous donations of land and resources by the Reed family and other Jupiter Island residents, to the helping hands of local charitable organizations, we have been there for each other.

We have continued on a prosperous path. This is an area where the streets are quiet at night, with little traffic. A friendly place where children can safely play outside, and seeing a familiar face at the grocery store or local event is normal. Hobe Sound is relaxed and diverse. Youth activities include baseball, soccer, football, softball, and basketball. Martin County Schools are an "A" rated school system.

Our community is home to several places of worship including the Hobe Sound Bible Church and College. Only minutes away you will find a highly acclaimed Indian River State College (Chastain) Campus as well.

Relax at the beach, take in some rays, go fishing, go boating. These are a few of the local activities available to you in Hobe Sound. Immerse yourself in the activities our local residents enjoy year round. Winters are warmer, summers last longer. Do you golf? You will definitely enjoy one of our world class courses. Hobe Sound Beach is a favorite site for local shore fishing. Want to boogie board or surf? You can hit some waves here too! SCUBA Diving? No problem. Drift diving can be found to the south of us in Jupiter or Palm Beach through local dive operators. Try something different.. like Polo? You can watch professionals play from January through April each year. SHOPPING you say? The Gardens Mall is to the south, or Treasure Coast Mall to the north, both within a thirty-minute drive time. Truly, a variety of activities surrounds you.
