Welcome Letter

Addison is alive and flourishing, and when looking for a village in which to live, work and do business, you couldn't choose one better than Addison in terms of overall advantages.

Addison is a friendly community, determined to constantly better itself by enhancing its appearance, accessibility and living conditions. Newcomers are welcomed enthusiastically, whether it be to the residential, business or industrial community.

This is a community that offers a one-of-a-kind living environment. Homes within the village range from affordable starter homes to more expensive luxury models. Because of this commitment to diversity, many third- and fourth-generation residents can be found within the community.

Lake Street: Beautification of this main thoroughfare over the past decade has transformed the heart of our community into something that we are proud of, and which draws patrons from throughout DuPage County.

In addition to shopping opportunities at Green Meadows Shopping Center, Centennial Plaza and Lake Addison Plaza, Addison now boasts a flourishing Entertainment Corridor that competes with other communities with large shopping malls. Branching out from the cornerstone of Marcus Cinema, one of Chicagoland's largest multiplexes, patrons can enjoy Dave & Buster's Entertainment Complex and Restaurant; Laser X laser tag; Chicago Indoor Racing; and a mouthwatering row of restaurants that include ZaZa's, Famous Dave's Bar-B-Que and LaHacienda, to name just a few. And visitors to our area enjoy the top-notch accommodations of both Hilton Garden Inn and Hampton Inn & Suites.

As home to the fourth-largest industrial community in the State of Illinois, and the largest in DuPage County, as well as a wide range of business entities from home-based to large-scale corporate home offices and distribution centers, Addison offers many employment opportunities and resources.

For local events, community theater, family festivals and concerts in the park are year-round advantages to living in Addison! For outdoor recreation, the family aquatic center, golf dome and four golf courses can't be beat—including the Park District's newly refurbished Links & Tees nine-hole executive course. The Village's proximity to I-290 and I-355 enable convenient trips into Chicago to visit museums, symphonies and the latest Broadway road shows.

Addison boasts excellent schools, both public and private, and is also host to DeVry University, Technology Center of DuPage and a satellite campus of the College of DuPage.

Despite being the home to more than 36,000 people, Addison exhibits a small-town feel that is rare in bustling DuPage County. This is accomplished largely through constant interaction between residents and the various governmental agencies in town. Through cable television, town meetings, neighborhood coffees, and online forums via the village Web site (www.AddisonAdvantage.org), residents know their elected officials as well as they know their neighbors.

All of this—and more—creates what is known as the “Addison Advantage.”

Larry Hartwig, Mayor

Introduction

Ideally situated in Chicago's fine western suburbs, Addison is a tight-knit community of approximately 37,000 people—many of whom represent third- and fourth-generation families. Recognized for its inviting and dynamic atmosphere, enhanced by excellent schools, sweeping housing options, a forward-thinking government, and plenty of cultural and recreational opportunities, it is no wonder Addison has developed into one of the leading communities in DuPage County.

This high quality of life is supported by a solid local economy, which is fueled by a diverse range of businesses. Addison's unwavering commitment to ensuring the success of its business community is evident through its strong partnerships and various incentive programs. The Village has worked diligently in securing new business prospects while at the same time retaining its existing entities.

Active organizations established to promote the business community also add to the advantages of setting up shop in Addison. A dedicated Chamber of Commerce & Industry provides its members with a long list of valuable services and programs, including a number of networking opportunities, monthly meetings featuring prominent speakers of interest, informational seminars and participation in major events such as the annual Five Star Business EXPO.

Whether you are looking to establish a business or purchase a home, Addison is an exceptional town for any endeavor. Its unmatched resolve to implement continuous improvements for all of its community members makes Addison a distinct place of infinite promise for the future.

Location & Transportation

Among Addison's many great assets is its convenient location just 21 miles from downtown Chicago. This prime locality offers quick access to a range of major transportation networks. U.S. Route 20 stretches northwest to southeast through the heart of Addison, intersecting with Illinois Route 83 near the eastern edge of the community. Within a few hundred feet of this intersection, commuters can utilize the cloverleaf interchange with Interstate 290. Interstate 355, a tollway running north to south, begins in Addison at its junction with Route 20, carrying traffic south to Interstate 55. At Route 20, the northbound side of I-355 turns into Illinois Route 53, a highway that links drivers with Interstate 290, U.S. Route 14 and further major routes.

Public transportation is readily available for commuters needing to travel locally. Part of the Regional Transportation Authority (RTA), Pace provides convenient bus service to a multitude of destinations in the Addison area. Additionally, several Metra commuter train stations can be found nearby in the communities of Itasca, Lombard, Wood Dale and Villa Park. The rail service offers riders a hassle-free trip to downtown Chicago and its surrounding suburbs.

Dozens of motor freight carriers serve Addison's business and industrial sectors. The Chicago, Central and Pacific has established a freight line in the far southern portion of Addison's industrial district as well.

Air travel is another available mode of transportation afforded to Addison residents and businesses. The bustling O'Hare International Airport is located a mere 11 miles from Addison, while Midway International Airport can be accessed within 22 miles from the village. A designated reliever to these major airports, DuPage Airport maintains private and corporate aircraft. DPA is situated approximately 15 miles from Addison in West Chicago.

History

The Addison Historical Commission preserves town history through a variety of projects and sites.

Historical Museum

Also known as the Balzer House, this building was originally located on East Lake Street and was owned by one of the first families of Addison. The home and its accompanying Coach House (which was the first Addison Township Office) was moved in March 1999 alongside the Century House to become a permanent home for the Addison Historical Museum. The museum is open Saturday, 10 a.m.-2 p.m. (June through August), and Wednesday, noon-3 p.m. Call 630-628-1433 for more information.

Century House

Built in 1893 as a teachers' home for the Lutheran School, this building was purchased by the Village of Addison in 1993 to help preserve a piece of local history. It was renovated, restored and furnished to recreate the look of the late 1800s, all through donations from the community. The Century House is open for tours by appointment only. Call 630-628-1433 for information.

Historical District

The Addison Historical District includes Army Trail Boulevard (from Kennedy Drive to Lake Street), St. Paul Lutheran Church (built in 1906), the Addison Century House (built in 1893 and restored to its original condition), and the Addison Historical Museum.

Real Estate

Families, young professionals, corporate executives and retirees have all found a place to call home in Addison. Featuring an eclectic real estate landscape, prospective residents are sure to find a home to suit any lifestyle. Housing styles are quite diversified, ranging from affordable starter homes to opulent estates, and the wide price ranges available in the community guarantee even those with a tight budget will find the right place to settle. In fact, the village is recognized as one of the county's most affordable communities for residential living. Due in part to a thriving commercial and industrial tax base, property taxes remain lower than most other communities in DuPage County.

Friendly, well-maintained neighborhoods are nestled throughout the village, providing a sweeping array of attractive home styles. Warm bungalows, Cape Cod-style dwellings and front-to-back split-level residences form Addison's mature neighborhoods, while newer subdivisions feature lovely mid-size and larger executive-style properties. More modest spaces are also available through such options as townhomes, condominiums and apartment complexes.

With close proximity to schools, healthcare facilities and recreational spaces, Addison maintains a favorable environment for independent, family and retirement living. No matter what stage of life, Addison has a home for you.

Tourism

Whether stopping in for business or visiting the area for an extended stay, travelers will find Addison fully equipped to handle all lodging needs. Nationally recognized chains such as Hampton Inn & Suites, Hilton Garden Inn, Howard Johnson, and Springfield Suites by Marriott (Elmhurst) offer a variety of amenities designed to meet the personal and professional needs of nearly all travelers.

Planned community events give visitors the opportunity to sample local culture and bring residents together to celebrate heritage, holidays and special weekend events. Citizens and visitors gather for annual events such as the Pizza Bake-Off, Concerts in the Park and more.

Business & Industry

A diverse and strong business community fuels Addison's economy. There are more than 45 companies in Addison, which employ more than 100 workers each, and 300 companies have 20 or more employees. United Parcel Service, with 2,280 workers, and Fore Supply Company (wholesale distributors of toiletries), with 500 workers, are among the largest employers. The Pampered Chef and other large, well-known national companies are headquartered in Addison, and Nabisco has a major operating facility in the municipality.

Of all manufacturing operations in DuPage County, 20 percent are located in Addison, which is the fourth-largest industrial district in the State of Illinois and the largest in DuPage County. The industrial sector encompasses much of the village's west and south sides, with businesses from large-scale to small facilities that produce items such as electronic controls, telecommunications equipment, industrial drills and kiln equipment.

Businesses find homes in the 198-acre Meadows Business Park, the 70-acre Addison Business Center, the 37-acre Tollway Park and the 30-acre Corporate Center. To encourage business and industrial development and facilitate the expansion of existing sites, the village offers a wide variety of economic incentives. A facade improvement program offers low interest loans for facade renovation and other exterior improvements. In addition, loans are available for signage improvement, construction to comply with the Americans With Disabilities Act, and landscaping/ streetscaping improvements.

Numerous shopping destinations fill the Addison area, providing residents and visitors with a wealth of options.

A variety of businesses can be found along Addison Road, and along Lake Street, which is the village's primary commercial artery, lined from one edge of Addison to the other with stores, restaurants and services. Five of the village's six major shopping centers are located along Lake Street.

One of the larger centers is the 176,000-square-foot Green Meadow Shopping Center, with approximately 60 different merchants and professional services, including a large food and drug chain, and a variety of stores and services.

The Lake Mill Shopping Center, with 100,000 square feet of space, offers a variety of shops, dining and services in 13 facilities, and the 16 facilities in the 76,000-square-foot shopping center across the street include a variety of shops and eating establishments. To the west, additional shopping and services can be found in the Farmwood Plaza. In the Terra Venture Shopping Center at Rohlwing Road and Lake Street, one will find the convenience of a Walmart, a Sam's, Club, an Office Depot, a Best Buy and dining facilities.

Three regional malls are located nearby—Woodfield mall to the northwest, Stratford Square to the west and Oakbrook Center to the south.

The largest-growing commercial and entertainment area is to the west, including Centennial Plaza and Fox Lake Commons, which is home to a variety of restaurants; healthcare facilities; Marcus Cinema; and a variety of retail shops including jewelers, ice cream and coffee shops, banking facilities, and much more.

In addition, anyone seeking banquet facilities has a choice of several locations to accommodate small to large events, including the Medinah Shrine Center, Alta Villa Banquets, The Empress and the newly-opened Venuti's.

Entertainment

There is always something to do in Addison. Countless events are planned year round, and the area also features a selection of entertainment venues and restaurants.

Addison Community Theatre group has been entertaining audiences with musicals, comedies, dramas and mysteries since 1977. They've performed everything from Guys and Dolls to Ten Little Indians and Godspell to A Christmas Carol. The group's annual Madrigal Dinner is always a sell-out. Addison Community Theatre performances are held at Addison Trail High School.

The Chicago Lyric Opera comes to Addison annually for "Opera in the Neighborhood," a special activity directed at elementary school students in grades 3-6. Members of the Lyric Opera help school teachers instruct children in the performances they will see. Then the opera stars present operatic scenes after which the children are invited to ask questions.

Summertime concerts in the park are popular among Addison residents. Held each Tuesday evening during summer months, the concerts feature the Addison Community Band, Limited Edition Band, and student bands from the high school and the junior high school. In addition, the annual Community Days fest and parade is a highlight of the summer.

Dining can be as elegant or casual as the mood requires. With a variety of restaurants offering meals that range from fast food to gourmet, nearly every taste is satisfied in Addison.

Several entertainment-related businesses are established in Addison including Dave & Buster's and the Marcus Cinema.

In addition, proximity to Chicago opens its vast array of museums, theatres, galleries and professional sports to Addison residents.

Our Mission Statement

The Addison Chamber of Commerce & Industry strives to provide:

- The best environment possible to enhance business in the Addison community.
- Educational sessions for business and employee development in a forum for the exchange of business.
- Related ideas and solutions.
- Assistance in the interpretation of and compliance with government regulations.
- A means for meaningful community involvement.

The Addison Chamber of Commerce & Industry serves the entire business community—retail, service and industry. No matter how large or small a company may be, we can provide assistance, whether it be through information that we disseminate through our newsletter, Shoptalk, or by our ongoing communications via e-mail and fax. We offer luncheon meetings throughout the year, where guest speakers offer valuable information to the business community such as new legislation or regulations often presented by Legislators and local Elected Officials; up-to-date suggestions on general business practices; updated information on local transportation issues; and much more. Several times during the year, joint meetings with members from other surrounding Chambers allow our members to meet new people in similar industries, or those who might become future customers or sources of materials—reaching across the borders to these business communities.

We also participate in area business-to-business expositions, whereby our members can display and advertise their products and services; assist our members in organizing and advertising their “business after hours/open house” events; and offer our members the opportunity of sending out special advertisements, notices, bulletins or information via our e-mail and fax distribution program.

Our special events throughout the year include our annual Golf Outing, Administrative Professionals Day event, annual Holiday Cocktail Party and other events as planned, all of which offer our members the opportunity to network in a more social atmosphere.

We participate in local community events, which provide opportunities for our members to call attention to their products or services. Through the generous support of our members, each year we host a dinner to recognize the top graduates from our two high schools and make the presentations of annual scholarships and awards.

As we continue to strive to serve the business community of Addison, we encourage all businesses, whether new to the community or a long-time business, who are not members of the Addison Chamber of Commerce & Industry to contact us. We cordially invite you to visit our Web site, www.addisonchamber.org, and welcome an opportunity to introduce ourselves to you, and hopefully have the opportunity of serving you as a member in the future.

Please feel free to contact us. We're looking forward to hearing from you.

Parks & Recreation

Committed to providing the highest quality parks and recreation system, the Addison Park District has been a staple in the community for 40 years. Since its establishment in 1969, the Park District has developed from eight parks spanning 50 acres into a system of 24 parks totaling 290 acres.

The parks, adorned with playgrounds, ball fields, tennis and basketball courts, multi-purpose athletic fields, and picnic areas, are havens for active residents of all ages, providing a long list of outdoor activities.

Two of the most prominent parks in Addison are the 50-acre Community Park on the eastern side of town and the nearly 40-acre Centennial Park to the west. Community Park houses the summer favorite Family, Aquatic Center, featuring an Olympic-size pool and a splash pool for children; the expansive Community Rec Center, home to a 10,640-square-foot gymnasium and a number of multi-purpose rooms; and the Senior Leisure Center, which is equipped with more than 7,000 square feet of activity space. The Senior Leisure Center is known as one of the largest senior citizen clubs in the western suburbs.

Centennial Park boasts the Centennial Rec Center, which houses a 10,000-square-foot gymnasium, complete with a 1/13-mile indoor track, and a number of multi-purpose rooms. It also encompasses the Club Fitness facility, a newer fitness center offering an indoor lap pool, hot tub, sauna, indoor walking/running trail and wealth of advanced exercise equipment. The facility is also the site for the Northeast DuPage Special Recreation Association (NEDSRA), a cooperative effort of which the Addison Park District services the recreational needs of individuals with disabilities.

The Addison Park District also manages the Links & Tees Golf Course, a “Top 100 Golf Practice Facility” (Golf Range Magazine 2007-2008). The nine-hole executive course stretches over 1,100 yards of play to challenge players of all skill levels. Complementing the course is the dual-deck indoor Golf Dome, an outdoor practice range, Putter's Peak Adventure miniature golf course and a 4,000-square-foot clubhouse.

Avid golfers can also take advantage of at least a dozen further golf courses in the area. Among the choices are the Oak Meadows and Maple Meadows Golf clubs, Bloomingdale Golf Club, Indian Lakes Country Club, and Eaglewood Resort & Spa.

Supplementing the parks, facilities and programs of the Addison Park District are the hundreds of acres of DuPage County Forest Preserves. These areas offer visitors the chance to bird watch, camp, fish, picnic, hike, cross-country ski, golf, boat and more.

Addison Elementary School District 4 serves Addison with seven public elementary schools (pre-K to 5) and Indian Trail Jr. High (6-8). In addition, the community is home to two parochial elementary schools. These school districts work diligently to ensure that their students are prepared for the future, especially in the area of technology. From public to private schools, Addison has the best education there is to offer.

DuPage High School District 88 is committed to “Building Futures” at Addison Trail High School (ATHS) and Willowbrook High School (WBHS). With a student population of approximately 4,100 students in grades 9-12, District 88 serves the communities of Addison; Villa Park; Oakbrook Terrace; and sections of Bensenville, Elmhurst, Itasca, Lombard, Oak Brook and Wood Dale.

In April 2007, these communities voted to fund a $104.7 million referendum to modernize the infrastructure and learning environment of both high schools. With completion expected in fall 2010, “Building The Future” will represent the most significant renovations in the last 30 years. Additionally, the District Office relocated from within WBHS to the previous Addison Public Library in October 2008 as a cost-savings measure for the construction project.

The mission of District 88 is to work for the continuous improvement of student achievement. The Board of Education, administration and staff of District 88 are committed to serving the needs of diverse learners and providing opportunities for growth both inside and outside of the classroom.

DeVry University offers bachelor of science degrees in business administration, computer engineering technology, computer information systems, electronics engineering technology, network and community management, and technical management. They offer associate of applied science degrees in electronics and computer technology and network systems administration. A merger with Keller Graduate School of Management offers master's degree programs in business administration, accounting and financial management, human resource management, information systems management, project management, public administration, and telecommunications management.

The Technology Center of DuPage (TCD), a top-level career and technical education campus located in Addison's industrial sector, serves 23 DuPage area high schools, including Addison Trail. The center offers 21 programs of study, covering in-demand careers in health and safety, technology, building and manufacturing, automotive, personal services, and arts and communication. While earning high school credit, students may also earn transferable college credit and available industry certifications. Through its unique, hands-on learning environment, TCD offers students the field-specific academic, occupational and employability skills critical for success both in post-secondary education and eventual entry into the workplace.

The Addison Regional Center of the College of DuPage, located in the Technology Center of DuPage building, has been serving the Addison community for more than 25 years. The Addison Regional Center offers a wide range of credit and non-credit classes, from Auto Body to Anatomy and Physiology, and a myriad of services to our area residents, including counseling, assessment and career testing, an open computer lab available to students and community members, pre-course testing, and on-site registration for returning students.

Numerous other colleges and universities are within easy commuting distance. Among these is Benedictine University, a multifaceted four-year college whose primary element is the undergraduate college of liberal arts and sciences. Others include the University of Chicago; the University of Illinois-Chicago; Loyola and DePaul universities; Northwestern University; the Illinois Institute of Technology; and Northern Illinois University in DeKalb, or its branch in Hoffman Estates.

Addison Public Library

The mission of the Addison Public Library is to provide informational, cultural, educational and recreational resources and services to the citizens of Addison. The Addison Public Library seeks to accomplish its mission through prudent management and development of its resources and by providing access to a broad range of materials and services to meet the present and future needs of the community it serves. In this effort the Addison Public Library cooperates with other libraries and educational, cultural, community and governmental agencies and institutions.

– Mission of the Addison Public Library

The concept for instituting a much-needed public library in the Village of Addison came to fruition in 1958, thanks to the hard work and dedication of the Kiwanis Club of Addison. A referendum for establishing a tax-supported library was passed by great majority on July 7, 1962, shortly after the Addison Village Board gave permission to remodel two rooms located in the Municipal Building for library use.

The Addison Public Library officially opened on October 15, 1962, and soon joined 10 other local libraries to create the DuPage Library System in April 1966.

As the population of Addison experienced tremendous growth, the library quickly outgrew its facility in the Municipal Building. After a second referendum attempt (and a final approval), construction of the new library structure commenced in August 1967. The completed Addison Public Library opened its doors on October 14, 1968.

After many enhancements over the years, the Addison Public Library has continued to meet the growing educational, recreational and cultural needs of the community. Today, the nearly 27,500-square-foot facility houses an extensive collection of books, movies, music, magazines, newspapers and electronic resources. Complementing the collection is a full range of programming for children through adults. A membership of approximately 24,000 takes advantage of book discussions, reading programs, homework help, storytimes, movie presentations and computer classes—among further programming opportunities.

Adventist GlenOaks Hospital

For more than 25 years, Adventist GlenOaks Hospital has provided quality care to the community. The 186-bed hospital offers a full range of services, including emergency care, cardiology and cardiac catheterization, interventional radiology, behavioral health, and obstetrics.

A team of nearly 300 outstanding physicians admit and treat patients at the hospital. Working with experienced and caring nurses, Adventist GlenOaks Hospital is proud to bring some of the most advanced technological services to the community.

In 2007, the hospital opened a new Emergency Department with a unique concept—no waiting room. Upon arrival, patients are immediately taken to a private treatment room, where a nurse or technician will begin treatment. Families are welcome to stay by the patient's side, and a physician will be available shortly after arrival.

The Emergency Department was named the Shanahan Emergency and Trauma Center in 2008 in honor of Joseph Shanahan, M.D., medical director of Emergency Services at the hospital. Shanahan donated $500,000 to the renovation effort. The ER is approved for pediatrics by the state of Illinois. Board-certified physicians work with a team of trauma-certified nurses to provide the highest level of quality care.

Adventist GlenOaks Hospital's Heart and Vascular Institute, which opened in 2008, offers the experience of interventional cardiologists, electrophysiologists, cardiovascular surgeons and interventional radiologists in one convenient location. Patients with life-threatening heart blockages or those who need pacemakers or implantable defibrillators can now be treated closer to home.

The hospital also provides compassionate and respectful care for adults, seniors and adolescents who are experiencing emotional, psychiatric, behavioral or addiction disorders.

In addition to the extensive offerings discovered through Adventist GlenOaks Hospital are two further hospital campuses in the area, as well as a number of various physicians offering a range of specialties and subspecialties.

Elmhurst Memorial Healthcare

Founded as the first hospital in DuPage County, Elmhurst Memorial Hospital has evolved to become Elmhurst Memorial Healthcare in order to reflect its monumental growth. Currently, the system includes a 427-bed hospital equipped with a physician staff of 600 and a support staff of more than 3,000 employees. Supplementing the main hospital campus are a number of health centers located throughout the western suburbs, including the Elmhurst Memorial Addison Health Center, which houses physician offices, laboratory services, and community classes and programming.

Elmhurst Memorial Healthcare has taken the next step in meeting the needs of this region by setting in motion the construction of a replacement hospital. The organization broke ground on the 50-acre campus in May 2008. Featured in the new acute-care hospital will be all private rooms, a modern Emergency Department, a Heart Hospital, technologically advanced surgical suites, specialized outpatient centers, a Women's Pavilion/Cancer Center, and more. Opening of the replacement hospital, located at the corner of York and Roosevelt roads in Elmhurst, is slated for fall 2011.

Alexian Brothers Medical Center

Nearby Elk Grove Village is home to the renowned Alexian Brothers Medical Center. A recognized Primary Stroke Center, Alexian Brothers Medical Center offers a wide range of health services, including cancer care, neurology, emergency medical care, orthopedics, pediatrics, women's services, respiratory care and much more. The system also operates health clinics and a host of Immediate Care Centers and Diagnostic Imaging Centers, including facilities in Addison.

The newest addition to the campus is the five-level bed tower. Upon completion in summer 2009, the new tower will add 108 private beds to the hospital and will serve as a centralized facility for all of the hospital's diagnostic services.

Worship

Addison recognizes and embraces the diversity of its community—an attribute that is evident through the establishment of many houses of worship in the village. Representing a variety of faiths and denominations, the area’s religious institutions welcome both residents and visitors to take advantage of regular and special worship services, along with a wealth of educational and outreach programs in the community and beyond.

In addition to these spiritual communities are a multitude of active clubs and organizations in the Addison area. An assortment of civic clubs and community groups have been established here, devoting time to creating strong community ties, providing leadership opportunities and helping those in need.

Addison government officials work hard to ensure that the village continues to grow and thrive. The officials, including the Mayor, six Trustees and the Village Clerk, are elected to four-year terms. The Village Manager is an appointed professional to oversee the day-to-day functions of the government.

Services are provided from the following four facilities in the village:

Village Hall, located at 1 Friendship Plaza, includes the Administration, Finance, Community Development, and Community Relations/Cable Television Departments. Village Board and Committee meetings are held at this location, and meeting room facilities are available for community organizations. The Addison Field Court is located at 3 Friendship Plaza, and the Addison Police Department is located in an adjacent building in the same complex.
