Positioned within the Arrowhead Region of northeastern Minnesota, near the Minnesota/Wisconsin border and the shores of Lake Superior, the Hermantown area stretches for nearly 35 square miles. Part of the larger St. Louis County, Hermantown and its surrounding communities are provided with a unique blend of semi-rural suburban living and big city conveniences, especially with its close proximity to the city of Duluth and its unending list of culture, entertainment and recreation.

Both residents and businesses find the Hermantown area quite appealing. The local public school districts remain dedicated to enriching the lives of their students and the community, and the area's economy continues to strengthen. Community members also take advantage of friendly, safe neighborhoods that contribute to the Hermantown area's high quality of life.

Outdoor Recreation

Minnesota's Arrowhead Region is noted for its natural beauty. Residents and visitors of the Hermantown area have ready access to St. Louis County's 1,000 lakes, several state parks and numerous trail systems designated for hiking, biking and cross-country skiing. Notable recreation sites in the region include the Hartley Nature Center, the Spirit Mountain Recreation Area, the Snowflake Nordic Ski Center and the Willard Munger State Trail, as well as several local park sites operated by area municipalities.

The region is also just south of the scenic Superior National Forest. Recognized as the eighth most visited national forest in the country, Superior National Forest is a great place to enjoy activities such as fishing, boating, camping, hiking, biking, skiing and wildlife and nature viewing and is home to the rugged Boundary Waters Canoe Area Wilderness (BWCAW), a one million-plus-acre area offering more than 1,500 miles of canoe routes and 2,000 campsites.

Golfers are provided a wide selection of challenging courses in the Hermantown area, too. Beautiful, well-maintained courses are located nearby, with several located in Duluth and other neighboring communities, including Cloquet, Proctor, Carlton and Superior, WI.

Shopping

A wide variety of retailers have made Hermantown and the Miller Hill area home, and offer an array of products and services. Shoppers peruse the shelves of locally owned shops and big box stores, finding everything from home décor, furniture and clothing to gardening supplies, health and beauty items and much more. Additionally, local shoppers have access to the many opportunities in Hermantown and Duluth, with numerous malls, outdoor lifestyle centers and a waterfront downtown district lined with an attractive mix of retailers and restaurants.

Dining

Hungry patrons have plenty to choose from when it comes to enjoying a meal or quick snack. Hermantown and Miller Hill restaurateurs have established delicious pizzerias, casual bars and grills, steakhouses, cafes, fast food eateries, fine dining restaurants and more in the area, which together serve up an eclectic selection of foods. Whatever you are craving, you will find something satisfying in the Hermantown and Miller Hill areas.
