2010 COMMUNITY PROFILE & MEMBERSHIP DIRECTORY

Chamber President Letter

I am delighted and proud to be the President of the Clayton Area Chamber of Commerce for 2010. I am confident that 2010 will be an exciting year for the Chamber.

This Membership Directory lists each Chamber member alphabetically and also by category. I would like to encourage you to utilize this directory and support your fellow Chamber members by doing business with them at every opportunity.

I would also like to make you aware of the many functions available for you and your business to network with other area businesses during the year. The Chamber offers After Hours and Member Breakfast Exchanges on a monthly basis. Lunch and Learns and Eggs and Issues are held quarterly, and, of course, the annual events include the Business Expo, Golf Tournament, Harvest Festival, Christmas Parade and the Year End Banquet. We welcome your participation in as many of these events as possible. Please contact the Chamber office at (919) 553-6352 or go online to the Chamber Web site at www.claytonchamber.com for more information on these events.

The Chamber also offers a wide array of benefits to members. These include Email Blasts, Educational Opportunities, Business Referral Services, Directory Listing, Meeting Room Facility and Grand Opening/Ribbon Cuttings, among others.

I would like to thank the Chamber staff for their hard work throughout the year. Finally, I would like to thank you, the Chamber Members, for your support and dedication to the Clayton Area Chamber of Commerce.

Sincerely,

Wanda S. Markuson
2010 Chamber President

About the Chamber

With 400 members, the Clayton Area Chamber of Commerce is the fastest-growing Chamber in Johnston County. Our diverse membership includes small businesses, industries, professional firms, financial institutions, nonprofit organizations, government agencies and individuals.

The Chamber staff works cooperatively with area businesses and local government to promote business and economic development, increase civic awareness and community involvement, and support educational opportunities throughout Clayton and the surrounding areas. We are a resource for information about Clayton, and we assist in recruiting new businesses to the area.

The Clayton Chamber is an active organization that provides a variety of monthly events and activities designed to help members enhance their marketing efforts and increase opportunities for networking their businesses. We also provide professional development opportunities for our members throughout the year.

Among our activities are monthly After Hours, Member Breakfast Exchange, Ambassadors Committee, professional seminars, Annual Awards Banquet, Business Expo, Harvest Festival, Golf Tournament, Clayton Christmas Parade and other special events.

CHAMBER ACTIVITIES

Take advantage of the opportunities available through the Clayton Area Chamber of Commerce to build and expand your business. See the Event Calendar at www.claytonchamber.com for more detailed information about scheduled events.

AFTER HOURS

After Hours is the perfect chance to network monthly with other Chamber members in a relaxed atmosphere. Showcase your business by signing up to be an After Hours host.

MEMBER BREAKFAST EXCHANGE

If you can't get involved in After Hours, join other members for coffee and a light breakfast at the Chamber on the last Friday of each month. Meet fellow Chamber members and find out what the host business has to offer.

AMBASSADORS COMMITTEE

The Ambassadors are a group of professional volunteers who work as the personal representatives of the membership and liaisons between the professional staff at the Chamber, the Board of Directors and the members. The Ambassadors meet monthly for lunch at a member restaurant. In addition, Ambassador Training is held twice annually. For more information about the Ambassadors program, contact the Chamber staff at (919) 553-6352.

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

The Chamber works with the Johnston Community College Small Business Center to present speakers on a variety of business topics during Eggs & Issues and Lunch & Learn seminars several times throughout the year.

BUSINESS EXPO

The Clayton Business Expo is sponsored by the Chamber annually. The Expo provides a venue for members and other area businesses to showcase their products and services to the community. The event is open to the public.

HARVEST FESTIVAL

This festival is Clayton's biggest event sponsored by the Chamber. The annual Harvest Festival brings 20,000+ people to town for a variety of festivities, including a vendor street fair, entertainment, rides, amusements, numerous types of food, a merchant auction and an antique car show. The five-day event is the highlight of the year.

CLAYTON IDOL

This event has become an extremely popular event. Clayton Idol auditions are held the week of Harvest Festival. Finalists perform live on the Main Stage to a packed crowd. The winner of Clayton Idol performs at several Chamber events throughout the year.

HARVEST FESTIVAL GOLF TOURNAMENT

Join fellow Chamber members for a day on the links.

CLAYTON CHRISTMAS PARADE

The Chamber also sponsors the annual Clayton Christmas Parade, which draws hundreds to downtown Clayton in early December to kick off the holiday season.

SPECIAL EVENTS

The Chamber also sponsors other special events throughout the year. The Chamber is proud to sponsor numerous community events, which includes two blood drives during the year. In addition, during the school year, the Education Committee honors a Superstar Education Staff Member and presents them with a gift certificate and goodies from Chamber members.

According to the U.S. Census Bureau, the 2007 population estimate of Clayton stands at 14,948. This makes Clayton the fastest-growing town in Johnston County. Although it has experienced tremendous growth in the past 10 years, it maintains a small-town charm that welcomes newcomers and visitors alike.

Clayton's public schools are a major factor in attracting residents. Administered by Johnston County Schools (JCS), area elementary, middle and high schools are among the top performing schools in the county. JCS is committed to providing a high-quality education for its students and boasts nine Schools of Distinction, 13 Schools of Excellence and 11 Honor Schools of Excellence countywide.

Clayton is surrounded by a thriving industrial base and offers diverse recreational activities, numerous educational opportunities and a burgeoning cultural and visual arts community. Its citizens—who range from young families to retirees—enjoy the comfort and security of living within a small community and are able to take advantage of the benefits of living close to the major metropolitan Triangle area.

Clayton strives to be a diverse town that provides avenues of growth for education, industry, small business and recreation. The Clayton Area Chamber of Commerce works cooperatively with town officials and area businesses to promote business and economic development, increase civic awareness and community development and support educational opportunities throughout the town.

History

The Town of Clayton had its beginnings in the early 1700s, when settlers began to occupy land formerly inhabited by Tuscarora and Sioux Indians. Originally known as Stallings' Station, a depot along the North Carolina Railroad, it mostly consisted of several small stores that served the rural area. The first post office, built in 1845, was located just southeast of its present site, under the name of Gulley's Store, and was officially renamed Clayton in 1856.

Following the Civil War, Clayton saw a surge of activity. Agricultural production increased, and, as a result, new markets formed, both locally and regionally, connected via the railroad to other centers of commerce. The Town of Clayton was incorporated in 1869 and since then, it has become a dynamic, thriving community that has grown into the second-largest town in Johnston County.

Getting Here

Citizens and visitors find Clayton easily accessible. Located on the western edge of Johnston County in the Piedmont region of North Carolina, the town is only about a 20-minute drive to the state capital in Raleigh and about a 30- or 35-minute drive to Research Triangle Park and Durham, respectively. Clayton is near Interstates 40 and 95 and U.S. 70, and is a 30-minute drive from Raleigh/Durham International Airport. The airport services nine major airlines and 18 regional airlines with an average of 450 daily arrivals and departures.

A four-lane, divided highway was constructed to relieve congestion on existing U.S. 70 and provide motorists traveling to Raleigh or to the coast with an alternate route. Motorists traveling to I-40 through Clayton now have a faster, less-congested route.

- It is a new four-lane, divided highway.
- There are access points at interchanges including I-40, N.C. 42, Ranch Road and the U.S. 70/U.S. 70 Business Split.
- The new road includes 22 new bridges.
- Existing U.S. 70 has become U.S. 70 Business.
- The 10.7-mile highway stretches from I-40 at mile marker 310 in Wake County to the U.S. 70/U.S. 70 Business Split in Johnston County. The Johnston County Airport is located approximately five minutes east of Clayton. Its 5,500-foot runway and taxiways are paved and lighted, and charter service is available. Amtrak can be boarded in Selma or in Raleigh. Bus service is available from Smithfield and from Raleigh.

The scenic North Carolina Mountains are just three and a half hours to the west, and the beautiful North Carolina coast is just two hours to the east.

ARTS & ENTERTAINMENT

Clayton is a burgeoning artists' community. The visual and performing arts continue to grow as citizens find fewer and fewer reasons to venture out of town for entertainment.

The Clayton Center, which features a 600-seat auditorium, was renovated from the former Clayton school buildings into a state-of-the-art performance and conference center. The auditorium is home to a professional performance series that runs between October and May annually.

Blues music is thriving at The Clayton Center. February 2010 marked the fifth anniversary of the popular Blues Bash, which took root during the 2005-2006 Palladian Series, which showcased the talent of local prodigy Daniel "Slick" Ballinger. Also sharing the bill was Ernie Hawkins. Other Blues Bash performers have included Luther "Captain Luke" Meyer, Cook John Ferguson, Beverly "Guitar" Watkins and Albert White. The auditorium is also rented to local groups for pageants, concerts and presentations. The Conference Center has quickly become a destination for both the businesses and civic communities around the region. It's also home to visual artist exhibitions throughout the year.

A new club, Laugh Out Loud Comedy Club, opened on U.S. Business 70. They are host to many top-line comedic acts.

The Johnston County Arts Council (JCAC)—the private, nonprofit arts agency for Johnston County—has its main office in Clayton. The council supports quality arts programs and projects throughout the county and within area schools, promotes and sponsors local arts events, and advocates the arts as a part of everyday life in Johnston County.

The Clayton Art Faire, sponsored annually by the Clayton Visual Arts committee, is held each year in June in conjunction with Millstock, a local music and crafts festival.

Tourism

There's something for everyone in Clayton and surrounding Johnston County. From the arts to the outdoors, the area offers activities for visitors and citizens of every age.

Local parks and golf courses provide a host of recreational opportunities, while Clemmons Educational State Forest offers educational programs, nature trails, camping, hiking and picnic facilities. The Clayton Center, located downtown on Second Street, is a venue for several performing arts series that bring national touring companies, local concerts and productions to Clayton. It also provides exhibit space for local visual artists.

In the fall, the Clayton Area Chamber of Commerce sponsors the Clayton Harvest Festival—featuring amusements, an Antique Car Show, Merchant's Auction, Arts and Crafts and many food vendors. The Chamber also sponsors the Clayton Christmas Parade on the second Saturday of December.

The Johnston County Visitor's Bureau, which offers information on events and attractions throughout the county, is located off of I-95 in Smithfield. Visit the Visitor's Bureau Web site at www.johnstonco-cvb.org.

Clayton residents enjoy a wide range of educational choices, from outstanding public and private schools to institutions of higher learning.

Johnston County Schools is comprised of 42 schools that serve about 26,200 students from kindergarten through grade 12. The Clayton area includes: West Clayton Elementary, East Clayton Elementary, Cooper Elementary, Powhatan Elementary, Riverwood Elementary and River Dell Elementary schools, which serve grades K-5; Clayton Middle School, Archer Lodge

Middle School and Riverwood Middle School, which serve grades 6-8; and Clayton High School and West Johnston High School, serving grades 9-12. Two new high schools are currently under construction; Corinth High School and Cleveland High School. Corinth High School is slated to open for the 2010-2011 school year. All schools are accredited by the North Carolina Department of Public Instruction and by the Southern Association of Schools and Colleges.

Johnston County Schools strive to create an atmosphere of communication among students, faculty and the community, in order to encourage the development of well-rounded students, taking into account social responsibility, diverse teaching methods and practical considerations. As a result of these efforts, Johnston County Schools rank in the top 20 percent of North Carolina schools, with an average SAT above the national average and National Board Certified faculty.

For more information, call the Johnston County Schools Central Office in Smithfield at (919) 934-6032.

Johnston Community College, located about 10 miles east of Clayton in Smithfield, is part of the North Carolina Community College System. It has an enrollment of approximately 6,000 and offers a wide variety of associate degree programs. The Small Business Resource Center is located at the Johnston County Workforce Development Center in Clayton. The Center's mission is to support the entrepreneur in starting a business and to provide assistance to business owners in being more successful. The Center does this by offering training, counseling and information services to the general public at no charge. The Small Business Center works with the local Chambers of Commerce, professional organizations and other governmental agencies to provide training at a low or at no cost to the general public. Counseling is by appointment and is provided at no charge by calling (919) 209-2015.

There are many other colleges, universities and technical schools within commuting distance of Clayton, including North Carolina State University, the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and Duke University.

Johnston Health in Smithfield recently expanded and now offers the following services:

- 101 private suites with accommodations for overnight guests
- Modern intensive care unit (ICU); state-of-the-art operating rooms
- Advanced technology, including 64-slice CT scanner, digital mammography
- Comfortable front lobby, charming gift shop, lovely chapel, colorful food court

The hospital is in partnership with Duke University Health Systems in operating the Summit Surgical Center and Summit Rehab Center in Clayton. It also sponsors a variety of activities that promote community education and well-being for all ages. Other agencies under the JMH umbrella include the Johnston Family Care Centers in Kenly and McGee's Crossroads and a QuikMed Urgent Care Center in Garner. For more information about the hospital, call (919) 934-8171.

Johnston Health – Clayton is now open! This is a $30 million medical center that includes an emergency department, diagnostic imaging and lab services, and two operating rooms. The medical center is located on N.C. 42 West, near the intersection with Amelia Church Road. On the same site, a three-story office building for doctors and specialists is now open.

More important, Johnston Health has plans to expand Johnston Medical Center–Clayton into a full-service hospital. Toward that end, the governing board of the hospital has asked state regulators for permission to move 27 acute-care beds from Smithfield to Clayton.

Clayton also is home to a satellite medical office of WakeMed (a major Raleigh hospital) and a number of family and specialty physicians, dentists, optometrists, chiropractors, urgent care, physical therapists and assisted-living centers.

Johnston County offers many healthcare options, while the Triangle area is home to several large medical centers that provide extensive primary and specialty healthcare, including Duke University, WakeMed, Rex Healthcare and UNC Chapel Hill hospitals.

Recreation

The Clayton Parks and Recreation Department offers year-round programs for all age groups. Youth and adult athletic leagues, special events (including the annual Fourth of July celebration) and a wide variety of self-improvement classes are offered.

Parks and Recreation also maintains several public parks. Clayton Community Park on Amelia Church Road is a 42-acre park that has multiple recreation opportunities. Included are a field house, picnic area and playground, championship tennis courts, three softball and youth soccer fields and a paved trail for hiking, jogging and biking. A community center with meeting rooms and a gymnasium will open shortly.

Municipal Park on Stallings Street features a volleyball court and horseshoe pits, as well as a playground, a basketball court, a tennis court, a ball field and a picnic and shelter area. Legend Field, located on City Road, provides a baseball and softball field and a premier mountain bike trail that is popular with riders in Clayton and throughout the Triangle area. Front Street Park has a playground area and a basketball court.

For more information on Parks and Recreation programs and facilities, call (919) 553-1550.

The Johnston County YMCA is currently running programs in area schools, churches and municipal fields. Call (919) 359-9622 for more information.

Clayton boasts several fine golf courses, including Pine Hollow Golf Course, The Neuse Golf Club and Riverwood Golf and Athletic Club. Two other championship golf courses—River Ridge and Eagle Ridge—are just minutes away. Riverwood also offers a full-service athletic club that features indoor and outdoor pools, a gym and fitness classes. The Rudolph Howell and Son Environmental Learning Center (Howell Woods) consists of more than 2,800 acres containing nine natural communities and a diverse number of flora and fauna. Located in Four Oaks, it was donated to Johnston Community College in 1993 by Rudolph Howell, whose wish was that it would be used as an outdoor classroom. Staffed and operated by Johnston Community College, the property is actively managed for the benefit of wildlife, educational opportunities and low impact outdoor recreation for residents and visitors countrywide. For more information call (919) 938-0115.

Clayton also is in close proximity to the ballpark for the Mudcats minor league baseball team; Jordan Lake, Falls Lake, Harris Lake and Kerr Lake recreation areas for fishing, boating and watersports; the North Carolina coast and other attractions around the Triangle area.

A brand new indoor batting facility recently opened on Main Street. Monster Batting Cages offers top-of-the-line batting cages, pitching machines and tunnels.

Clayton offers shoppers a wide range of retail and service centers throughout town. Along U.S. Business 70, shopping options range from large discount retailers to small specialty, jewelry and clothing shops. Hair and nail salons, day spas and other professional services are readily available, as are a variety of restaurants. Shoppers will find new and used furniture, women's clothing, home interiors and more tucked in the shopping centers that line the major thoroughfare.

Clayton also features a vibrant downtown shopping district. Along Main and the surrounding streets, shoppers can find gifts, an art gallery, art frame shop, new furniture, jewelry, printing services, garden and office supplies, cake decorating and party supplies, hair and nail supplies, restaurants and professional offices.

Dining options in Clayton continue to grow. The town boasts a wide variety of establishments from fine dining to fast food to ethnic cuisine; there is something for everyone.

Working Here

The business climate in Clayton is diverse, with major industries working alongside hundreds of small businesses and companies to offer a variety of products and services.

With industrial expansion and rapid residential growth, Clayton continues to be a prosperous town in which to live and work. Local Government

Did you know that Business Week Magazine ranked Clayton the 10th best town in the nation for affordability and quality of schools?

A team of assessors for the Commission on Accreditation for Law Enforcement Agencies plans to recommend “full accreditation” for the Clayton Police Department. This would make the Clayton Police Department the only one in Johnston County to earn this prestigious status!

The Town of Clayton operates under a council-manager form of government, which consists of a mayor and five council members. The mayor and all council members are elected from the population at large. The mayor’s term is four years, while the council members serve staggered four-year terms.

The Clayton Town Council meets at Town Hall on the first and third Monday evenings of the month at 7:30 p.m. All meetings are open to the public.

Appointed boards (made up of residents who volunteer their time and expertise) meet as required. These include a Board of Adjustment, Planning Board, Downtown Development Association, Parks and Recreation Advisory Committee, Library Board and Fire Advisory Board.

Johnston County is governed by a seven-member Board of Commissioners elected from districts. The county employs a professional county manager who acts as the chief administrative officer. For information call the Johnston County Manager’s Office at (919) 989-5100.

Johnston County Register of Deeds Craig Olive and a team of office employees were recently recognized with the 2007-08 Ralph W. Ketner Employee Productivity Award from the North Carolina Association of County Commissioners for development of a program that allows businesses to electronically submit documents for recording at the Register of Deeds Office.

E-recording is an economical and speedy alternative to forcing customers to either physically drive to the courthouse or hire a courier to deliver documents for recording. Lenders, lawyers and professionals can simply e-mail documents to the Register of Deeds and, with the help of recording software, receive a recorded document for review and view the document online in a matter of minutes.

The county is able to increase staff productivity and reduce the need for new employees, and eliminate paper-handling processes and errors. Consumers save money that would be spent on fuel or a courier service and enjoy the peace of mind that comes from an increase in security of their information. From an environmental perspective, the new process saves trees used for paper.

While Johnston was the first county to adopt e-recording and the first to record a document that had been electronically notarized in North Carolina by an e-notary, several counties have already followed suit, including Wake, Yancey, Pender, Madison and Guilford.
